MITCHELL IS PLEASED

With Manner In Which the Public Received the Strike Order.

GETTING THOROUGHLY ORGANIZED.

Regrets That Politicians are Trying to Make Capital Out of the Strike. Workers Urged to Remain Away From the Mines.

Indianapolis, Sept. 14.—John Mitchell, president and W. B. Wilson, secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers' of America, say they are very highly pleased with the manner in which the general anthracite coal order has been received by the public. Mitchell says he regrets deeply that politicians are endeavoring to make capital out of the strike.

"I had hoped," said he, "that there would be no political significance attached to so serious a matter as this great strike involving, as it does, the very living of 143,000 wage-earners who have felt the merciless foot of capital for two decades."

President Mitchell is keeping informed on every move made by the miners and the coal operators in the

from John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers of America, demanding arbitration for differences between the company and its men. "I have always been ready to treat with our men," he said, "and am ready to do so now. We do decline to treat with Mr. Mitchell and the organization he represents. The trouble has all been fomented by the bituminous unions. I am confident that the anthracite unions have no real grievances. We shall not attempt to fill the men's places. We shall shut down the collieries and wait for the men to return. We have no desire to foment disorder and shall not encourage it by bringing in new men." William V. S. Thorne of the Pennsylvania Coal company, which employs 8,000 men, declared that he took a similar position. This company, he added, would make no effort to put new men at work, unless the strike should be indefinitely prolonged.

Order Will Be Obeyed.

Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 14.—Everything is quiet in the Hazleton region. Not a colliery is idle or shorthanded, and operations are in full blast, every miner being anxious to put in the last two days allowed by the United Mine Workers for preparation for the strike. Strike Leader Benjamin James was busy all day preparing the headquarters to be occupied by President Mitchell and his staff. Mr. James says he has received reports from every mine to the effect that the men will go out on strike as ordered.

Foreigners to Leave.

Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 14.—The Hungarian consul stationed here said that a large number of his countrymen have and are still applying to him for rates of passage to Europe. It is believed that if the strike will be a long one many of the foreigners will return to their homes in other countries.

Federation Will Help.

Chicago, Sept. 14.—In an interview here Thomas L. Kidd, vice president of the American Federation of Labor, declared that national officers of labor organizations may offer to aid the United Mine Workers in organizing and maintaining their strike.

PROCLAMATION TO BOERS.

Roberts Tells Them the War Can Have Only One Ending.

London, Sept. 14.—The following dispatch has been received at the war office from Lord Roberts: Machado-dorp, Thursday, Sept. 13.—Kruger has fled to Lorenzo Marques, and Botha has been obliged to give over the command of the Boer army, temporary to Viljoen, on account of ill health. In consequence of this I have circulated a proclamation as follows:

"The late President Kruger, with Reitz and the archives of the South African republic, has crossed the Portuguese frontier, and arrived at Lorenzo Marques with the view of sailing for Europe at an early date. Kruger has formally resigned the position which he held as president of the South African republic, thus severing his official connection with the Transvaal. Kruger's action shows how hopeless is his opposition in the war which has now been carried on for nearly a year, and his desertion of the Boer cause should make clear to his fellow burghers that it is useless to continue the struggle any longer.

"It is probably unknown to the inhabitants of the Transvaal and the Orange River colony that nearly 15,000 of their fellow subjects are now prisoners of war, not one of whom will be released until those now under arms against us, surrender unconditionally. The burghers must be cognizant of the fact that no intervention in their behalf can come from any of the great powers and further that the British empire is determined to complete the work which has already cost so many lives and carry to a conclusion the war declared against her by the late governments of the Transvaal and the Orange Free State, a war to which there can be only one ending."

The proclamation then points out that with the exception of the small area which General Botha is defending, the war has degenerated into irregular operations which must be brought to an early conclusion, and concludes: "The means I am compelled to adopt are those which the customs of war prescribe as applicable to such cases. They are ruinous to the country, entail endless suffering to the burghers, and their families, and the longer this guerrilla warfare continues the more vigorously must they be enforced."

Jury For Howards Trial.

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 14.—The jury in the case of James Howard, charged with being a principal in the Goebel assassination has been secured. The jury stands 10 Democrats, one Republican and one anti-Goebel Democrat. Ten of the jurors are farmers.

JOHN MITCHELL.

entire anthracite field. He is busy preparing to leave for Hazleton, Pa., Saturday night. He will take with him every office document that may be needed in an emergency, and with his secretary, will establish headquarters in Hazleton. Thomas D. Nichols, John Fahy and Thomas Duffey, presidents of anthracite districts Nos. 1, 7 and 9 will also report direct to Mitchell. Several special organizers will probably be appointed to work under Mitchell's direction, and other national board members will no doubt be sent to the anthracite regions. Mitchell proposes to hold many mass meetings and his policy, he says, as well as that of all other leaders in the strike, will be to persuade the workers to remain away from the mines.

Practically Closed.

Scranton, Pa., Sept. 14.—Operations in the 18 mines owned by the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad company, employing 10,000 mine workers, are almost at a standstill, there being a few men gathered around the mine openings, but none going to work. Besides these collieries, those of the Ontario & Western Railway company, embracing the Pine Brook, Briggs and Western, Ridge mines, employing 1,800, and the Mount Pleasant colliery with 800 employees, were shut down, the men having decided to quit after they had assembled for work. The Delaware and Hudson company mines are working, but with a small force. The statement given out by President Oliphant, of this company, was discounted somewhat by the action of the local unions of his employees in deciding to obey, almost to a man, the order to strike, clean up their places and leave the mines in proper condition. The individual operations, over 30 mines and breakers, are likewise doing little. The miners and labor leaders say they are not disturbed as yet over the means of support for the strikers. The general feeling is that the miners and their laborers are better provided for financially than the public has been led to believe. Every mine and breaker in the Lackawanna region, extending from Pittston south to Forest City on the north is practically closed. These workings have given employment to nearly 55,000 men and boys, more than one-third of the entire number of employees in the anthracite coal fields of Pennsylvania.

New York, Sept. 14.—R. H. Oliphant, president of the Delaware and Hudson railroad, declares he has not and will not reply to the telegram

DEMOCRATIC OPENING.

William J. Bryan Opens the Ball For Democrats of Ohio.

PINK FOR REPUBLICAN EMBLEM.

Roosevelt Continues His Peregrinations in South Dakota—Fowler Making Campaign Speeches In the East—Political Resume.

Columbus, O., Sept. 14.—Formal opening of the presidential campaign by the Democracy of Ohio at the capital city brought large numbers of Democrats to Columbus. William J. Bryan and party arrived at 8:30 a. m., three hours earlier than expected, having come direct from Fort Wayne. Mr. Bryan did not go to Toledo, as two extra speeches in Fort Wayne caused him to miss connections for Toledo. Consequently the reception committee did not go to Marion to meet Mr. Bryan, but awaited his arrival at the depot. At a reception at the Great Southern hotel Mr. Bryan shook hands with hundreds of the followers of the Democratic standard bearer.

A procession, headed by the Democratic clubs of Columbus, and comprising clubs from Newark, Akron, Zanesville, Circleville, Delaware, Wauseon, Chillicothe, Dayton, Ashland, Mansfield and brought up in the rear by the famous Duckworth club, of Cincinnati, with a number of brass bands interspersed, marched on High street north to Goodale park, where the afternoon meeting was held.

The afternoon meeting began at 2:30 and an immense throng was assembled about the platform. Colonel James Kilbourne, of Columbus, was chairman of the day, and made a stirring speech before introducing Mr. Bryan, who made the formal campaign opening address. Mr. Bryan discussed the leading issues of the campaign in his characteristic manner, and his remarks were received with great enthusiasm. Ex-Governor Pattison, of Pennsylvania, followed Mr. Bryan, and in turn was followed by Hon. John S. Beard, of Florida.

In the evening a meeting was held at the Columbus auditorium, which was addressed by Congressman John J. Lentz, Congressman J. A. Norton, Hon. Tom L. Johnson, Hon. John C. Welty, Hon. C. W. Baker and others. Mr. Bryan left at midnight for St. Louis, where he is to speak to commercial travelers Saturday night.

Hanna Talks About Jones.

Chicago, Sept. 14.—"I don't care whether Mayor Jones takes the stump or not. When he comes out for Bryan it means simply that McKinley has lost just one vote and no more," said Senator Hanna when questioned concerning the declaration of Mayor Jones of Toledo, that while he would probably not run for congress he would make speeches for Bryan and Stevenson. "Mr. Jones," the senator continued, "says he will not announce himself for congress because he sees the people don't want him. It would be a bad year for him if he were to run, for the Republican party in Ohio is amply able to carry the state and Jones' own district with him in the race or out of it. I see that Mr. Bryan is squaring to come at us with the race question. I understand he will attack us on the disfranchisement issue. Well, let him come down to Ohio and talk with the colored people there. This is a day of newspapers and neither Bryan nor anybody else can shut the eyes of the press. The public is bound to get the truth." Senator Hanna will speak at Delphi, Ind., Saturday.

Canton Again the Capital.

Canton, O., Sept. 14.—Canton is again the nation's capital from which affairs of state are largely conducted. Practically the routine that was interrupted five weeks ago by the return to Washington has been resumed at the McKinley home. Secretary Cartelou and clerks from the executive office at Washington took possession of the office quarters of the house and found themselves overwhelmed with matters which had accumulated during the several days of travel and sojourn at Somerset, Pa. This matter was largely official routine. The president also found himself deluged with telegrams and letters congratulating him on his letter of acceptance and commanding the sentiments therein contained. Among the callers during the day was former Senator Mitchell of Oregon, who had a short conference with the president and expressed confidence of a good Republican situation in the northwest.

Democratic Conference.

New York, Sept. 14.—The chairman of the Democratic state committee from the nearby states were in conference with National Chairman Jones and the subcommittee having in charge the campaign in the east. Maryland, West Virginia, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Connecticut, New Jersey, Delaware and other states in New England were represented. Each of the state chairmen made an exposition of the campaign in his state. It was stated the committee had resolved to make the fight here more vigorous until the close of the campaign.

LI LEAVES FOR PEKING.

Yung Lee, Leader of Anti-Foreign Faction, on Peace Commission.

Washington, Sept. 14.—The Chinese minister called at the state department to inform the officials that he had a dispatch from Li Hung Chang stating that the latter would leave Shanghai Friday, going first to Tien Tsin and thence to Peking. Mr. Wu felt satisfied that Earl Li already had departed from Shanghai, probably on one of the many merchant ships centering there, unless the reported action of Russia has caused him to reconsider his proposed departure.

According to reports Russia has insisted that the emperor shall return and assume full direction of governmental affairs, entirely displacing the empress dowager and that Prince Tuan be punished for his part in the recent trouble. It is said these demands have been made to Li Hung Chang. Minister Wu is entirely without information on these points, but expressed some doubt as to whether such steps have been taken.

Even more important than the departure of Earl Li was the information conveyed by Minister Wu that an imperial decree named Yung Lu to join with Prince Ching and Li Hung Chang as a commission to negotiate peace. Yung Lu is the commander of the army in China, and during the recent trouble he was identified with the anti-foreign sentiment. His appointment is not likely to be well received by the powers, for beside his recent performances he is identified with the most obstructive element in China.

The Chinese commission now appears to be complete, comprising Li Hung Chang, Prince Ching and Yung Lu. No mention is made of the appointment of the viceroys of Nanking and Wu Chang who have been recommended by Earl Li and it is the opinion of Mr. Wu that their service is inexpedient because of the difficulty in leaving the southern provinces and making the long trip to Peking.

Monument to Lawton.

Fort Wayne, Sept. 14.—The people of this city dedicated to the memory of General Henry W. Lawton a monument crowned by a cannon captured by him. The ceremony took place under the auspices of the Union Veteran Legion and Colonel William J. Bryan was the principal orator. The meeting was preceded by a procession through the principal streets. Governor Mount preceded Colonel Bryan, and in his remarks denounced the Filipinos and paid tribute to the valor of American soldiers. Mr. Bryan's address was nonpartisan and a glowing eulogy of the volunteers.

Hung by Masked Mob.

Memphis, Sept. 14.—A masked mob of between 60 and 100 men broke into the jail at Tunica, Miss., and took out three negroes, whom they strung up to a tree near the jail. Not a shot was fired and the mob soon dispersed. The dead negroes are Frank Brown, who shot Frank Chesire, a prosperous planter at Teal Landing six months ago; David Moore, who shot Dan Bosewell 10 days ago and William Brown, who with confederates, shot and cut to death a young white man at State Levee one month previous.

Berlin, Sept. 14.—It is officially announced by the board of directors of the Deutsche Gesellschaft, that, with the co-operation of the Imperial bank, and through the Norddeutsche bank of Hamburg, the M. M. Warburg company of Hamburg, and Kuhn, Loeb & Co. of New York, acting in conjunction with the National City bank of New York, have taken over $80,000,000 marks of four per cent treasury bonds of the German empire, falling due in 1904 and 1905. With the approval of the Imperial bank the issue will be placed on the markets of the United States.

Quaint Character Dead.

Athens, O., Sept. 14.—John Tucker, a quaint character at Alfred, this county is dead. He fought Indians in Kentucky, was a pugilistic champion in his community, a leader at cockfights and dogfights, belonged to no church, and hadn't voted for 40 years, being originally a Whig. He smoked and chewed the strongest tobacco obtainable, but was temperate in other respects and would have been 100 years old in December.

BURNED AND BURIED.

Hundreds of Flood Victims Can Never be Identified.

MANY BODIES YET IN THE RUINS.

Refugees Seek Succor at Houston. Provisions Reach the Famishing. Contributions Continue to Pour In—Life Insurance Policies.

Houston, Sept. 14.—A list of 2,701 names of the Galveston dead has been compiled from various sources, but is believed to be authentic. There were hundreds of bodies burned, buried at sea and in the sand of which no identification was possible; there were other hundreds who were buried on the beach of the mainland, few of whom were identified. There are many bodies still in the ruins of Galveston and scattered along the beach of the mainland and in the marshes where they were thrown by the water. Some of these bodies have been sent 20 miles inland along small water courses by the rush of high waters. Taking all things into consideration there seems no longer any doubt that the number of dead will reach beyond the estimate of 5,000, which has been made by Mayor Jones, Major R. G. Lowe, and other reliable citizens of Galveston.

The people who have arrived here from Galveston in a dilapidated condition are being cared for as well as possible. Four buildings have been set apart for the benefit of refugees, but of the 3,500 who have reached here so far, not more than 800 remain in the public charge, the remainder of them going to the homes of relatives and friends. The owner of the steamer Lawrence has ordered the boat turned over to Adjutant Scouer who is in charge at Galveston and the transportation of people from Galveston to the interior will proceed faster. There has been delay in the transportation of provisions because of a lack of boats, but there are more boats now and the work will be faster and more complete.

Agents of several insurance companies are passing through to Galveston. They say there is certain to be much confusion, but they do not know what action will be taken by the companies, concerning the payment of claims without proof of death which, in many cases, will be impossible.

Contributions of money continue to come in, as do supplies of all sorts.

Gulf Gives Up the Dead.

Houston, Sept. 1.—Ed Dorchester, manager of the Velasco terminal has reached this city. He says three-fourths of the Velasco people lost their homes and four persons were drowned. Eight bodies washed ashore at Surfside, supposed to be from Galveston. At Quintana, seventy-five per cent of the buildings are destroyed. No lives were lost there. Mr. Nations of Velasco reports that nearly the whole country is devastated and that Velasco has hardly a house that will bear inspection. People are suffering for the necessities of life and many who are sick need medicines. He reports many dead bodies now coming in from the gulf and outside help is needed to bury the dead.

Common People Fared Worst.

Houston, Sept. 14.—There are few prominent names in the list of dead from Galveston. Most of them are people who were not well known outside their own circle of acquaintances. The class of people who are dead were working people, small tradesmen and small professional men and their families. The reason for this is plain, inasmuch as the greatest force of the hurricane was exerted against the east end, west end and the water front, while in the center of the city, where the people of greater prominence lived, there was not so much loss of life.

Strewn With Debris.

Hitchcock, Tex., Sept. 14.—Scores of the dead from Galveston are yet unburied, as the bodies are too badly decomposed to haul and there is too much water on the prairie to admit of digging graves. To form some idea of the wave which reached Hitchcock, a large pile driver of the Southern Pacific works at Galveston and also a large barge laden with coal are lying in the pear orchards near town. Box cars, railway iron, drawbridges, houses, schooners and every conceivable thing are lying over the prairie some 15 miles from their former location.

New York, Sept. 14.—Senator Foraker of Ohio addressed a mass meeting in Jersey City held under the auspices of the Republican State League of Clubs of New Jersey. He spoke of the panic of '93 and '96, and said the Dem-

New York, Sept. 14.—An unknown woman fell unconscious from starvation
in crowded Union Square this morning.
Hundreds of people hurried past her, but no one offered a helping hand. At last a policeman came and she was sent to a hospital. There the physicians said she had not taken food for more than a week. She was unable to talk, and there is little hope of saving her life.

Strange that such little incidents as the above should get into the papers in these days when the country is fairly overrun with McKinley prosperity.

WHAT MCKINLEY SAID.

Here is an utterance of Wm. McKinley
at the New England dinner in New York City in 1890: "Human rights and constitutional privileges must not be forgotten
in the race for wealth and commercial supremacy. The government by the people must be by the people and not a few of the people. It must rest upon the free consent of the governed."

The man who uttered that sentiment ten years ago is now trying to govern the Philippines with the aid of an army of 65,000—an army that has slaughtered thousands of the Filipinos who are struggling for liberty.

HELP THE GALVESTON SUFFERERS.

When Chicago was swept by a terrible fire some years ago, Maysville was prompt as any city in extending substantial aid.
The same was true when Johnston was destroyed by fire. In short, Maysville has ever been prompt in responding to calls for help when a terrible calamity has befallen any other city, and we should do our part toward Galveston.

We are sure the authorities will be commended if they will call a meeting of the City Council and grant a generous donation to the Texas sufferers, who lost all by the storm's ravages.

STARTLING STORY

In Connection With the Assassination of Goebel—Taylor Said to Have Granted Howard a Pardon.

[Enquirer] FRANKFORT, Ky., September 9.—On January 31st, the night after Senator Goebel was shot, a rather mysterious personage, who is known to have lived in Clay County, came to the office of the Enquirer bureau in Frankfort. After being assured of immunity for any disclosures he might make he said:

"I was in Manchester when Tom Baker was shot, and the man who is believed to have killed him was here yesterday, and was in the State House when Goebel was shot. I know this, because I saw him myself on the street, and I have it on reliable authority that he was anxious to secure pardons for other shootings for which he had been indicted, and these pardons were promised him on the condition that he would kill Goebel."

The correspondent indicated that he placed little credence in the story, and the Clay County man said:

"You may laugh at the idea now, but if the truth about the shooting is ever brought out you will find I am right."

Some one who knows every act that took place in the office of Caleb Powers on January 30th has been talking and telling tales out of school, and the Commonwealth has some startling new evidence.

The attorneys claim they are prepared to show that a few moments before the shooting, while the little band of men were peering out the window of Powers' office watching for Goebel to come in sight, Jim Howard sent Youtsey to Governor Taylor with a message to the effect that he and his assistants must have pardons in advance for the assassination;
that Taylor readily agreed and Youtsey returned with the pardons just before the shots were fired.

It is further claimed that the reason Jim Howard submitted to arrest was because of the pardon, which is or was dated January 30th, while Taylor was still Governor, and therefore legal and valid against any prosecution. After Howard's arrest, it is claimed, it got to the ears of the other conspirators that he was about to spring the pardon at the examining trial. This would be too plain a case against Taylor, so the State claimed Howard was induced to abandon his pardon
and rely on an alibi.

When Youtsey said that he could tell enough to hang Taylor if he was allowed to turn State's evidence, he was told that the hanging of Taylor was not what was wanted, but the names of all the guilty
participants in the crime; that if Taylor
was one of the number it was all right, but that no one was after Taylor any more than other guilty ones.

THAT ELECTRIC LINE.

Capitulists Behind the Move to Build a Road
North From Aberdeen.

[Morrow, O., Telegram.]

The talk of an electric line between Lebanon and Maysville, via Morrow, Blanchester, Fayetteville, Georgetown
and Ripley is becoming more pronounced.

Last Monday morning Hon. Eberly Smith, a banker of Blanchester, and other capitalists came to Morrow to consult some of our citizens in reference to the project and they were to have been here again Wednesday evening but were detained on account of the serious illness of Mr. Smith. A message was telephoned here Thursday morning to that effect and that parties from Blanchester

would be here again this week to discuss the matter with Morrow business men.

No better route could be selected for a traction line, as it runs through a country that needs a road badly. There would be but little grading necessary."

[Georgetown News-Democrat.]

While in Cincinnati last week we ran on to a gentleman who had attended

two meetings at Morrow in the interest of an electric railway, starting at Morrow

and proceeding to Blanchester, thence to Fayetteville, Mt. Orab, Georgetown,

Ripley and Aberdeen.

At one of these meetings was S. S. Woodward, who built the old C. & E. to Winchester.

It seems that he had made a survey several years ago of a line covering a portion of this route—from Georgetown to Ripley,

and it may be more—and had with him

the profiles and estimates of the cost of constructing the road at that time.

Those present, after viewing the drawings and hearing the accompanying explanations,

were greatly pleased with the possibilities of the route. The parties behind the project are men of capital. From Morrow the road is to be extended to connect with the system of electric roads

now covering the Miami valley.

Letters were written to parties in Georgetown several days ago with reference to the project but for some reason or other

they did not deign to answer or inform the citizens of the place that they had received them. A glance at the map will show that this is a more direct line than

you will first suppose.

CHECK FORGER CAPTURED.

One F. E. Burton Works an Old Swindle and is Promptly Landed by Policeman Wallace.

Thursday evening a quiet, innocent, looking young man dropped into Mr. John O'Keefe's store, after dark, priced a musical instrument and after examining it said he would take it, but a check was all he with him to pay for it. On inquiry Mr. O'Keefe was told that his customer had recently come to town and was employed at Heiser's grocery. He produced the check. It was for $9, was signed G. H. Heiser and was on the State National Bank. Mr. O'Keefe accepted the check, and the stranger left with his purchase and $5.50 cash. The name given by the customer was F. E. Burton.

Friday morning Mr. O'Keefe was not long fiddling out that the check was a forgery. Mr. W. H. Heiser knew nothing of Burton.

The case was placed in the hands of the police. Last night Policeman Wallace went to Portsmouth where he landed Burton, and brought him back here this morning on the 9 o'clock train. The musical instrument bought by Burton, a mandolin, was recovered.

At the sale of the late John M. Walton Friday, the home tract of five acres and fine residence near Germantown fair grounds was bought by the widow, Mrs. Carrie H. Walton, for $2,000. The residence alone cost $7,000 when built. The tract of 233 acres near Minerva, known as the Samuel Frazer farm, was bought by Mr. Walter Worthington, the price paid being $35.25 per acre. It cost de- cedent $40 an acre.

WALLACE'S SHOW MONDAY.

It is One of the Best and Finest on the Road—See the Big Street Parade.

The Indiana Farmer, a leading agricultural journal, thinks the Wallace circus is a horse show in itself. Concerning this great show, which will exhibit in Maysville next Monday, the Farmer said: "Time, intelligence, patience and perseverance are necessary in the collecting together of 200 head of horses, such as may be seen and are in daily use of the Great Wallace Show. The proprietor of this show, B. E. Wallace, is an Indiana, and is proud of this distinction, while on the other hand the people are equally proud of Mr. Wallace, for what he is doing in showing our farmers and people generally the beauty and advantages in having good horses. When Mr. Wallace conceived the idea of entering the circus business, he was also determined to purchase the best horses for draft purposes as well as for use in ring and races, and with this end in view he chose for his type of horse for draft the Percheron, the ideal draft horse, and for his racers the Kentucky thoroughbred, and with this end in view he has collected together over 200 head of the finest horses the world ever saw. He selected for his band chariot twelve handsome jet blacks, and for his dene and other wagons dapple grays. These intermingled with his fine thoroughbreds make one of the most imposing parades ever witnessed. Each year new stock is added, but each time the same stock is selected, until to-day Mr. Wallace stands without a peer as a judge of horses. The mating up of the different teams is also an object lesson to the eye, uniformity in size and color always predominating. Well may it be truthfully advertised, 'the finest horses of any show in the world.' To see the Wallace horses reminds one of being present at 'the great horse fair,' the painting of which made the late Rosa Bonheur famous. His display of horses is worth anyone's time to witness and should be seen by every farmer in the land, as he would soon see the advantage of breeding horses uniform in size and color.

Rev. U. W. Darlington will preach at the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in Washington to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock. The public invited.

Mr. W. A. Hines, of Manchester, Ia., writing of his almost miraculous escape from death, says: "Exposure after measles induced serious lung trouble, which ended in consumption. I had frequent hemorrhages and coughed night and day. All my doctors said I must soon die. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which completely cured me. I would not be without it even if it cost $5 a bottle. Hundreds have used it on my recommendation and all say it never fails to cure throat, chest and lung troubles." Regular size 50c. and $1. Trial bottles free at J. J. Wood & Son's drug store.
